

Patron's letter of recommendation

When Sir Edmund Percival Hillary reached the peak of Mount Everest in May 1953, he inspired generations of mountain climbers and adventure-seekers to do the same. We now have a team, ready to make history as the first all-female team from Singapore to climb the highest summit on earth.

Since their formation in 2004, the Singapore Women's Everest Team has achieved an impressive record of 100% success in summiting all the mountains they set out to climb. This includes their momentous feat in being the first local women to summit the 6th highest mountain in the world, Cho Oyu in the Himalayas in August 2007.

As a national project, the Team has been inspiring our women and youth to push the conventional boundaries of what is possible. They have been exemplary in their efforts in engaging the community through a series of school talks and public sharing sessions since the beginning of their journey.

With remarkable feats such as this, funding is a vital component of its success. The team is currently looking for sponsors to partner them on their Everest climb. Their journey will be greatly boosted by your support, and your brand would be associated with one of Singapore's finest.

I am writing to seek your support for their historic Everest journey. I hope that you will be able to play a part in this historic event and in doing so, inspire a generation of young Singaporeans to pursue their dreams.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Vivian Balakrishnan
Minister for Community Development, Youth and Sports
